

TERIS and Nuix team up to bring Nuix eDiscovery Platform to law firms and corporations

TERIS is selected as a national service provider for fast and powerful eDiscovery and electronic investigation software provider

Seattle, WA– Jan 12, 2010 – TERIS announced today that it has been selected as a national service provider and partner with Nuix to offer their eDiscovery and electronic investigation software processing to the legal industry. The core of Nuix is an advanced processing engine which interrogates virtually any unstructured data set (e.g. emails, hard disks, disk images, SharePoint, and websites), indexing the results and making them available for immediate analysis.

“Nuix has become one of the early case assessment, processing and investigation toolsets of choice for major corporate regulatory organizations,” said Peter Sternkopf, CTO, TERIS. “With Nuix, we can interrogate more data, faster and do so with far less steps, resulting in greater processing efficiencies,” Sternkopf added.

We are excited to partner with TERIS and embed our software solutions in their state-of-the-art data processing facilities,” said Eddie Sheehy, CEO, Nuix. “TERIS has earned a reputation as one of the leading litigation support service providers in the country and we're proud to work with them to help solve their clients' ever-increasing needs.”

With the addition of Nuix, TERIS continues to improve its comprehensive suite of client solutions that minimize cost and maximize efficiency through innovative functionality. TERIS also features a deep and highly experienced technical project management team with more than 60 technical certifications across the company. By expanding its offerings and adding talented professional staff, TERIS is accelerating its leadership position in the litigation support industry and continues to deliver unrivaled value to its clients.
